

GENERAL RULES

New Mexico is comprised of a single DMA which includes most of the entire state. NMBA Television awards are open to any FCC-licensed television station in the state. Spanish-language stations are encouraged to compete in all television categories

Each entry must have been broadcast on a current member station and broadcast within the state of New Mexico. TV entries must have been broadcast within the past calendar year.

Station entries must be submitted as originally broadcast (unless otherwise noted).

All entries must be uploaded on the official NMBA awards website. All entry fees must be paid prior to announcing the winners. Stations may submit one check for all of that station's entries. The fee per entry for $35.

This year's "news day" for Morning and Evening Newscasts is December 6, 2023.

How to upload your awards:

Be sure to be prepared by having your entries organized before you start. Here's what you'll need to know:

- » the name of the category
- » the call letters of the radio station
- » the title of the entry
- » the names of the people who should be recognized for this award*
- » the URL to your entry.

*THIS IS IMPORTANT - Names and spelling will be on the actual award, so be sure you've got everybody... and spelled correctly.
